Cristina Renzetti's Brazil at Dòlaondes

Cristina Renzetti (photo) was born in 1981 in Terni. She began singing and performing in the jazz very soon in the Bologna's jazz world very soon, setting her heart on the study of Brazilian music. From 2006 to 2011 she had lived for long stints in Rio de Janeiro.

The album "Origem è giro" is the Cristina Renzetti's concert's core of today, at 5.00 p.m. at the beautiful aquatic centre "Dòlaondes". The penultimate appointment of "Ciampac & Buffaure Music Festival" - that changes its original location of the meadows of Ciampac, in Alba, due to the bad weather forecast, moving to the aquatic centre - sounds the rhythm of Brazilian music, interpreted by the artist from Terni, who counted, for the album recording (registered in Rio de Janeiro and Italy in 2010), on the participation of some well-known artists from Brazil, like Edu Neves, Vitor Gonçalves, Bernardo Ramos and the Italian guitar player Giancarlo Bianchetti. In Val di Fassa, with the singer, Pasquale Mirra (vibraphone) and Davide Garattoni (bass guitar).

Amazing hikes

From the Refuge La Rezila to Malga Colvere to Fango

From Ronchi (nearby Moena) take the cablecar till the 2nd station. From there you walk towards Refuge La Rezila. From here, ascend till a crossroads where you make for path no.625. Pass by Malga Colvere and continue on the forest road till the crossroads with path no.634 (to be ignored). After few steps, at a turn, leave that street and turn right downward the hollow. You will arrive to a steep slope, and then to Ciadinon. Go ahead passing a crossroads, and span the stream Rif del Ciadinon. The descent is from now on through wooden slopes, passing near some trenches of the Great War. Get in the forest road then (coming from Ronchi), and beyond the stream you ascend to the main road towards Fango (1,40 h; 2 hrs.). From here, you go back to Ronchi along the forest road.

Did you know that...

When you reach Canazei from the Pordoi Pass, and you keep going on towards the region Veneto, you will encounter the monumental charnel house, located in the striking landscape of the high altitude meadows (at 2239 m). The building is an octagonal-shaped tower with a large circular base with two layers. 454 German soldiers and 8.128 Austro-Hungarian soldiers, fallen during the Great War, are buried in the central crypt. In the surroundings there are the graves (single or combined) of 842 German soldier of the Wehrmacht, fallen during the Second World War.
