Rhythm & blues "Music Festival" with Alan Farrington

Among the most important musical collaborations of Farrington (photo): Ellade Bandini, Ares Tavolazzi and Sandro Gibellini (that is the "Alan Farrington Band") and Gogo Ghidelli and Cesare Valbusa (they were the "Maxi Taxi" musical group).

Last appointment of the "Ciampac & Buffaure Music Festival" today at 2.00 p.m. in the hollow of Ciampac (reach it by ropeway departing from Alba). The protagonist is one of the Italian specialists of rhythm & blues: Alan Farrington. The surname should not betray you: Farrington comes from Britain, but he's been living in Italy since many years, and gave life to several rock-pop bands, then dissolved. Farrington boasts a long career, begun at 13 years old as autodidact singer and guitar player. In 1974 he moved to Usa, where he successfully performed with "Charlie and the Cats". He performs today with Fiorenzo Delegà (bass guitar) and Cesare Valbusa (drum) in a repertoire, which includes his compositions and pieces of Beatles and James Brown.

Amazing hikes

From Campitello to Prà Molin to Val Duron

From Campitello outwards, through Street de Morandin and Street de Col da Faé, ascend till a pasture along a grassy path sometimes steep. You enter then upstream the wood of Mount Ponjin, you walk by the clearing Prà Molin, getting out diagonally on a plain over the stunning Val Duron. You will now cross a beautiful wood of Swiss pine. Afterwards you arrive at a pasture in Ciampié and ahead to Micheluzzi Refuge, after passing Ruf de Duron (2,30 hrs.). You come back to Campitello crossing again the stream and turning left into a path, which is easy at the beginning and then becomes steeper. It brings you to the street of Val Duron, in Pozates. Here you find the Bar/Restaurant Hut Fraines, halfway between Micheluzzi Refuge and Campitello (0,45 h; 3,15 hrs.). Continue till you reach the village again.

Did you know that...

The first geographical map in which the name of Canazei appeared, called "Chauaz" or "Chanaz", is the one of G. Mercator, published in Amsterdam in 1589, regarding the "Tarvisina Marchia et Tirolis Comitatus". On the map, there are "Visum" (Vigo) and "Pinoa" (Penia) as well. G. A. Magini published his geo-map "Territorio di Trento" in 1620, where "Chauaz" becomes "Canaze". This name appears also in the map "Il Tirolo con i vescovati di Trento e Brixen e la città imperiale di Costanza" by G. Cantelli in 1686 (Tyrol and Trento and Bolzano's bishopric and the imperial city Costanza).

To participate in the initiatives for guests is compulsory to register at least one day in advance at the Tourist Offices of the Val di Fassa Card (ask your employer accommodation). The activities are reserved for guests of the associated structures all'Apt Val di Fassa.

Passepartout

The "Silenzi da guardare" by Pierluigi Orler

It's plenty of incredible shots the "Silenzi da guardare" (Silence to see). They are all collected by Pierluigi Orler Dellasega in his book, presented tonight at 9.00 pm in the Council Chamber of the Municipal Building in Moena. His origin is Val di Fiemme, he grew up in Milano, and he's a well know travel, sport architecture and environment photographer. His portraits of snowy winter landscapes are famous, and he defines these unique works as "snowart", due both to the contrast of lights and shadows and to geometric shapes (even those left by the passage of snow cats or skiers). In the volume, the protagonists are not only the mountain subjects: the silence plays a key role and adds thrills to the images on exhibit until 8th September, and from 12th to 14th September (time: 5.00 - 7.00 p.m.) in the municipality.
