Bosso and Biondini "Face to Face"

The weather forecast, which signal possible rainfalls, have persuaded the organizers to change the location of the concert, which should have taken place in Val San Nicolò, to the cinema in Canazei. This way the public will certainly have the possibility to enjoy the performance.

A trumpet and an accordion, face to face. The concert (entitled to their successful album, recorded in 2012) by Fabrizio Bosso and Luciano Biondini that will take place today at 5.00 p.m. by the cinema Marmolada in Canazei, launches the Fassa part of "The Sounds of the Dolomites". The well-known festival, this year at its 20th edition, brings internationally renowned artists to the most beautiful natural stages in Trentino and offers nowadays a comparison of instruments which becomes a mutual study of melodies and potentials, able to melt in a sole harmony. In the several songs we can detect the jazz elements, brought by the trumpet player, Mr. Bosso and the genuine folk of the accordion player, Mr. Biondini. An artistic synthesis, this of the two players, successful as well as original.

Did you know that...

"Le pope del Latemar" (The girls of Latemar) is a legend that tells about young shepherds that one day were asked by an old man whether they had found a knife with a gold handle. Minega found it in the grass and gave it to the old man, who invited her to express a desire. She wanted a doll. Minega told a foreigner woman what had happened, and she said not to trust him, because he owned more than he looked like, such as dolls with silk clothes, brocade and gold coins. The following day, Minerva followed her advice and a procession of dolls appeared in the sky and became rock.
