"La Gran Vera" exhibition: The Event of the summer.

Within the inauguration, the exhibition superintenders with experts and politicians, included the president of the Province Ugo Rossi, will be involved in a discussion about the 100th anniversary of the Great War and its meaning for the area, at 5.00 p.m. by Teatro Navalghe.

The today's inauguration of "1914-1918 'La Gran Vera'- La Grande Guerra: Galizia, Dolomiti", by Teatro Navalghe in Moena promises to be interesting. The important exhibition about the Great War, fostered by the Commune of Moena, the Ladin Institute, "Sul fronte dei ricordi" and curated by Michele Simonetti and Mauro Caimi, is rich in documents and heirlooms, divided in "Galizia 1914", "La trincea", "Dolomiti 1915", "Guerra alla Guerra". The exhibition opens at 12.00 p.m. (free admission until 7.00 p.m.), after the parade of the Music Band of Moena and the Schützenkompanie "Ladins de Fascia" starting from the monument for the Fallen (by San Vigilio's Church) at 11.00 a.m. and the uncovering of the "Memorial 1914-1918" in Piazz de Ramon square at 11.30 a.m.

High-level hikes

From Col dei Rossi to Passo Fedaia

This itinerary starts from Canazei: take the cable car to reach Col dei Rossi. Descend to Rifugio Belvedere and ramble to the right in the middle of the green meadow, then on the dirt road which links to Rifugio Fredarola, situated at 2.388 m (0,20 h). Follow path n. 601, sometimes steep but mainly flat, till Rifugio Viel dal Pan at 2.432 m (0,40 h). Go on for quite a long stretch, with light altitude gaps, enjoying the amazing landscape over the group of Tofane. You will get to a crossroads: descend rightwards and diagonally to the dam. Pay attention covering the last stretch cautiously because of its incline. You will come out on the road to Passo Fedaia opposite Rifugio Marmolada "E. Castiglioni" (1,20 h; 2 hrs.). You can come back to Canazei by bus: the bus stop is exactly at the end of the path.

Passepartout

Everybody to the "assemblage" on Buffaure

Creatives, future designers, curioses of all ages can have fun tomorrow afternoon on Buffaure with "Assemblaggio ad alta quota" (Assemblage at altitude). The activity is free, superintended by the association "Sentieri in compagnia" and has been conceived to reveal the art of recycling and reusing in a playful and creative way, in the panoramic hollow over Pozza. Both parents and children create through their fantasy and freedom toys, objects and small works to bring as a souvenir, recycling envelopes of daily use. To take part to the activity, book within 6.00 p.m. by the tourist offices of the valley (extra: lift tickets and any snacks or drinks by the refuge). "Assemblage at altitude" will also take place on Tuesday, the 15th of July at Ciampac, over Alba (with the same booking modalities and costs of the lifts).

Vigo di Fassa

Did you know that...

Once upon a time shepherds in Val di Fassa used the "colarines": these were collars for the cattle, commonly for cows, rarely for sheep too. On the other hand, those for goats, the so called "colarines da ciaura" were popular. They were circular and made of carved fir wood and they were also called "elbow" or "lyra" collar because they recalled the musical instrument. Cowbells were also important because of their sound: they permitted to identify where the grazing cattle was, especially at night or if the weather conditions were bad, when the cattle could get lost.

To participate in the initiatives for guests is compulsory to register at least one day in advance at the Tourist Offices of the Val di Fassa Card (ask your employer accommodation). The activities are reserved for guests of the associated structures all'Apt Val di Fassa.
