Canazei: the snow show

At the end of this exciting midsummer show offered by the ski instructors, the unusual slope in the centre of Canazei becomes an arena for children: equipped with inflatables and coloured bobsleighs, they can have fun sliding and celebrating on such a special night.

An astonishing window on winter, stupefying like seeing the snowflakes falling when the cold season comes, bringing everybody back to childhood: tonight at 9.00 p.m. along Strèda Roma street we will participate at the Canazei Night Show Summer Edition: a white blanket covers the town-centre, welcoming the exhibition of the ski and snowboard instructors of the ski school "Marmolada" from Canazei. The snow experts spare no effort when showing their technique and skills, as well as their acrobatic capabilities. Slalom, curving, jumps, group exercises, all made difficult by the skis at their feet, keep the public with bated breath. A magic that, gladdened by music, becomes striking when the light of the torches announces a romantic end on the skis.

Easy walks

From Penia to Lorenz, Verra and Insom

From the square of Penia go up through the meadows along the Troi de Lorenz path, arriving at the small hamlets of Lorenz and Verra. Walk by the small Church on a grassy path. Upward you can see the ruins of Insom. Through the meadows, you reach Ruf de Penia pass it and go on rightward to a path into the wood. Walk through the clearing of Udàer, descend the state road on your right for 150 metres up to the guardrail on the bridge over the Avisio; do not cross it and make your way into the wood. The ascent becomes steeper till the paved street. Proceed on the bridge and walk 30 metres on the road. Then enter the wood on the right and follow the path. You will find a gangway that leads to the sawmill Segheria Veneziana and after the second gangway you can come back quickly to Penia.

Passepartout

The Great War for Erri De Luca

An unmissable appointment, today at 9.00 p.m. in Piazz de Sotegrava square in Moena (Theatre Navage in case of rain): Erri De Luca is the protagonist of the meeting "Sulle tracce della Grande Guerra nelle Dolomiti" (On the prints of the Great War in the Dolomites), conducted by Virna Pierobon. De Luca, writer and poet, born in Naples in 1950, is also a climber who has a good knowledge of the peaks he has been climbing on for years, discovering the deepest wrinkles and the several tracks left by the First World War. Wounds on the ground and in the rock that have left their mark on people too. De Luca, who in his book "Il giorno prima della felicità" (The day before happiness, 2009) wrote that "War is the best occasion of doing rubbish" speaks of battles and Dolomites tonight, with his characteristic style, deep and harsh.

Did you know that...

The window is the simplest architectural element of mountain buildings also in Val di Fassa. In the past it used to be small, to let in just the necessary amount of light, and block the drafts from passing through, drafts that are very common in a mountain valley with few warm months (remember that, in the past, doors and windows weren't hermetical as they are nowadays). Windows acquire an important value when the first "Majon" (noble houses) are built: since then the window is framed with geometrical or floral decorations that enhances and enriches entire walls.

To participate in the initiatives for guests is compulsory to register at least one day in advance at the Tourist Offices of the Val di Fassa Card (ask your employer accommodation). The activities are reserved for guests of the associated structures all'Apt Val di Fassa.
