Did you know that...

A legend ties the feast of the snow Virgin with the glacier of Marmolada: on the 5th of August in Fassa, everybody had to kick the habit of working at altitude, to honour this religious feast. An avid countrywoman didn't stop working in the fields because of an approaching storm, that would have macerated the grass and wasted her hay harvest. Afterwards, during a night in August, much snow came down, and it stratified so much that it created the glacier on the Marmolada. The ice expanded on the hut of the old woman, making her lose the harvest and transforming her in an ice statue.
