Did you know that...

They fly in the sky of Val di Fassa, having their break on the trees' branches or on the houses' roof, and they are usual customers of mountain huts. The alpine grackle, belonging to the raven's family, are showy because of their black feathers and their rasping calls. They are even considered the most chatty birds. Some scientists claim that they use a real vocabulary (unknown to humans) that counts even 300 hundred words. We don't need to get surprised of their squawk: they just chat.

To participate in the initiatives for guests is compulsory to register at least one day in advance at the Tourist Offices of the Val di Fassa Card (ask your employer accommodation). The activities are reserved for guests of the associated structures all'Apt Val di Fassa.
