The "Val di Fassa Running" mounts the podium

The edition 2013 touches the most enchanting corners of the valley in a continuous ups and downs. This year has inaugurated for the first time the "Val di Fassa Running Baby", dedicated to the youngsters: it had a lot of success and took place in Pera.

Here we are with the final stages of the running race: the medals are to be awarded. Today the last stage is the most difficult one: the runners start from Moena and arrive at Lusia, setting off from the city centre and making their way for a steep path until they arrive at the cycle lane leading to the Hamlet of Sameda. After a short track on the ski slopes, the runners ascend the path "Troi del Buro", a brand-new spot for this edition. Once they have reached the Refuge Valbona, they continue dashing until the area called "Le Cune", where they can take a break admiring the landscape over the Catinccio and the Latemar Groups. At 9.00 p.m., there will be the closing party, with musical entertainment and the awarding of prizes at the Padiglione Manifestazioni in Pozza.

Easy walks

From the centre of Pozza to Bagni

To undertake this easy walk the starting point is the Church of San Nicolò. Leave Street de Meida and access on the left side the Street de Freina, which becomes a dirt road and after a while it bisects. At the crossroads take the path that descends rightwards in the wood. From here, the itinerary flattens out till it joins the foot/cycle lane, leading to Soraga. Here turn right skirting the purification plant for water and the Avisio River, till you reach Pozza and the municipal hall in the hamlet of Meida. Near the municipal hall, cross the square Piazza de Comun, and turn left on the street called "Promenada enlongia Ruf", that skirts the stream. Take it rightwards following the flow of San Nicolò stream till the Church of San Nicolò.

Buonconsiglio: a castle in the city's heart

Torre Aquila and its famous gothic-courtly fresco "Il ciclo dei mesi" is a sufficient reason to head off from Val di Fassa to Trento. The widest and most important building of the Region was the seat of the Bishop's power from the 13th century to the 18th century. At the beginning of the 14th century the bishop Bernardo Clesio – the first who wore the cardinal purple – celebrated his own nomination enlarging a wing of the castle in Renaissance style: so an imposing structure made people call it "Il Palazzo Magno". Clesio asked Dosso Dossi to decorate it, who ran riot with particular allegories. There are other worthy things to see in Trento, and you can easily reach the city by car in 1 h. 30 min. or by bus in 2 hrs. 30 min.

Did you know that...

Amongst the protected areas of Trentino there is also the biotope Roncon, in the municipality of Vigo di Fassa at 1720 m. It is a peat bog (spread in around ½ hectare in surface) that lays on a small saddle, in an environmental context which is really striking. A pile of sphagnum - that is peat moss typical of humid areas - characterizes the peatbog, which hosts rare vegetable organisms. This biotope represents one of the few humid areas in Val di Fassa and as it is a perfect place for reproduction, it is very important for the local amphibious.

To participate in the initiatives for guests is compulsory to register at least one day in advance at the Tourist Offices of the Val di Fassa Card (ask your employer accommodation). The activities are reserved for guests of the associated structures all'Apt Val di Fassa.
