Irish "Sounds" in Val Salei

In case of bad weather, the today's concert by Anja Lechner, Agnès Vesterman (photo) and Garth Knox – musicians of great music education and with great experience of solos and duets - takes place at 6.00 pm at Marmolada Cinema in Canazei.

3 string instruments, or better 2 violoncellists and 1 viola player, honour not only pieces by Marin Marais, John Dowland, Tobias Hume, Valentin Silvestrov and other composers, but also traditional Irish and Scottish melodies. Today at 2.00 p.m. in Val Salei three extraordinary musicians, Anja Lechner from Germany, Agnès Vesterman from France and Garth Knox from Britain, propose a polish sequence of pieces that celebrate at best the perfect harmony of landscape and art, proposed by the "Sounds of the Dolomites" festival. You can reach the venue from Canazei, driving toward Sella Pass until the Lupo Bianco Hotel (car park) then on foot on path no. 655 (45 min), or from Campitello by Col Rodella cableway, then on foot on path no. 655 (30 min).

Walk at high altitude

From San Pellegrino Pass to Fuciade hollow

The state street no. 346 connects Moena to San Pellegrino Pass (1.919 m). Descend around 200 metres on the other side of the mountain Pass, and after an overpass, turn left into the road ascending toward Hotel Miralago, where you have to park. You can also park in the broad parking area on the right before the overpass. From Miralago starts an easy dirt road, which brings you until the hollow of Fuciade, the extraordinary amphitheatre of limestone surrounded by imposing mountains (L'Om, Jigolè, Sas de Valfreida are the Ladin names). The place is particularly interesting from the botanic point of view due to one-of-a-kind plants and flowers. The itinerary ends at Fuciade Refuge (1.972 m; 1 h). You go back to Hotel Miralago with the same route.

Hermann Buhl through her daughter's words

A myth of alpinism, but above all a husband and a father. Tonight at 9.00 p.m. in Piazz Marconi in Canazei, Kriemhild Buhl presents the book "Mio padre Hermann Buhl" for "ParoleVistaDolomiti". There is also Eugenie, his wife, witness of his more significant adventures. The Austrian Buhl (1924-1957) was the 1st alpinist that climbed - soloing - the Nanga Parbat in 1953, without the oxygen, and tracing a route bearing his name. In 1957, he undertook another adventure on Broad Peak, becoming the first man who climbed over the 8.000 metres. After few time he passed away on Chogolisa, leaving Kriemhild (6 years old) – now successful writer of crime novels and books for children – and other 2 daughters. The story of a brave alpinist, a man with values, but also weakness.

Introductory workshop on Fassa's geology: how did the Dolomites form?

Vigo di Fassa

Did you know that...

If you happen to walk in the wood and on the high pastures of the valley, you will chance upon some trees damaged by lightning. But what happens when a discharge of such energy hits a plant? Sometimes the peak is sheared off, sometimes you can notice a scar following the entire length in a spiral drawing. The lightning's energy opens a wide and deep crack, due to the high pressure contained in the plant's water, which turns rapidly into vapour. Not always the plant dies, but the tissue furnishing the water burn and dry out.

To participate in the initiatives for guests is compulsory to register at least one day in advance at the Tourist Offices of the Val di Fassa Card (ask your employer accommodation). The activities are reserved for guests of the associated structures all'Apt Val di Fassa.
