Itineraries

FROM MOENA TO RONCHI

This easy walk starts from Ramon Square in Moena: walk upwards and towards the traffic light, pass the bridge, and ascend the stairway on the right that brings you to Street de Sameda, at the end of which you will find the lovely hamlet of Sameda. Continue walking right along the Street de Sèn Roch upwards, follow this street that crosses the hamlet, and turn off it. While walking, you will pass by the First World War Austrian Fort. Keeping the river Rif the Sèn Pelegrin on your right side, you will appreciate a pleasant landscape. Keep going on until you reach Ronchi, near the station of Lusia cable car. The route is paved, easy and alternates flat stretches with slightly steep ones. Go back along the same route: make your way to Sameda, and then Moena.

Did you know that...

One upon a time in Val di Fassa, men used to get married at around thirty, when they demonstrated the standards imposed by the society. They should be indeed "Cristina, san e procurer l pans" (Ladin for Christian, healthy and able to provide for bread). Generally loves blossomed during the summertime on the mountains' pastures at high altitude or during the winter in the "stua" (room where family spend time together), during the evening vigils, when parents, girls and boys met to chat and listen old stories and Ladin legends.

Initiatives reserved to guests with the Val di Fassa Card (ask your hotel/apartment) enrolments required by the previous day at the Tourist Offices. Activities are reserved for guests of the associated structures of Val di Fassa Tourist Board
