HIGHLIGHT

#DOLOMITESVIVES STARRING SIX FAMOUS CHEFS

Today from 11.30 am on, the six refuges welcoming the #DolomitesVives event, the initiative taking place each Wednesday in July and August on Passo Sella, invite you to reach the pass in a sustainable way (from 9.00 am to 4.00 pm): by bus, by lifts, by electric vehicles and by foot, too. After the extremely positive feedback about the first gastronomic event (July 12), the local chefs Stefano Ghetta, Paolo Donei, Reimund Brunner, Armin Mairhofer, Martin Mairhofer and Mario Porcelli are back to make you drooling in the following huts: Comici, Passo Sella Mountain Resort, Carlo Valentini, Salei, Friedrich August and Des Alpes. The tasting tour is articulated in two routes, but also single plates can be tasted (cost: 30€ 3 plates and 1 glass of wine each; 15€ 1 plate and 1 glass of wine).

Today in the valley

A one-of-a-kind relaxing evening, with forest's scents and sounds of the Jemm Project and theaterized classic narrative.

Itineraries

FROM MOENA TO THE BOUNDARY STONES OF SORAGA

This track recalls the fascinating history of Val di Fassa, looking for some boundary stones that once were the borderline between the Bishopric of Bressanone and Trento, now camouflaged along paths plunged among Norway Spruces and Scotch Pines woods. From Piazza de Sotegrava square in Moena, climb Strada Salejada and Strada de Moene streets. Reached Hotel Alle Alpi, turn left and ascend Strada Saslonch street, that permits to reach the locality called "Col dei Soldai". From here, follow the street towards Soraga. Along the path, cross the green meadows of Palua, till you meet the first road that ascends from Soraga. On the outer hairpin turn towards Moena, ascend to the wood that follows the borderline between the two villages, where the boundary stones are. Come back along the same route

The complete schedule of events is available in the tourist offices of the valley.

Did you know that...

The group of Catinaccio has always been dividing the people speaking different idioms and that have different cultures: on the west side live the people of Val d'Ega and Tires, both German speaking, while on the east side of this long mountain chain we find the Ladins, with their particular language, result of an ancient fusion between the Raetic language and Ladin. People of South Tyrol call this mountain "Rosengarten", from the legend of King Laurin and his flowered garden, while Ladins call it "Ciadenac".

Initiatives reserved to guests with the Val di Fassa Card (ask your hotel/apartment) enrolments required by the previous day at the Tourist Offices. Activities are reserved for guests of the associated structures of Val di Fassa Tourist Board
