HIGHLIGHT

ELEONORA IS THE NEW SOREGHINA

A cheerful smile (reminds us the famous local legend of Soreghina) is upon the face of Eleonora Dellantonio, the new Soreghina: the ambassador of the Marcialonga of Fiemme and Fassa. At the eventspavillion of Pozza, Eleonora -class '99 from Predazzo-, ski instructor, polyglot, volunteer and Dolomites-lover, was preferred to other three participants from Fassa and Fiemme. The Soreghina 2018 - follows Camilla Canclini, last year's pegeant- will represent the Marcialonga worldwide, awards the winners of the cross country competition alongside the other events, such as bike and running competition, and for the whole year, she will also participate to the events connected to the main Marcialonga.

Itineraries

FROM MOENA TO MALGA RONCAC

To discover Moena's surroundings: cross the picturesque hamlet of Sorte and ascend till the turn before the restaurant Malga Panna. From here turn right into the path "Roncac-Col Ros e Costalongia". After a short ascent, the route becomes flat and faces the Valley of San Pellegrino, visible because of the absence of the wood. Continue walking, cross the bridge and ascend a bit. The path flattens again and arrives into the forest road that brings you to Costalunga. Now descend on the right along a large track, cross Rif de Costalongia stream and walk till you reach Malga Roncac. Proceed to the hamlet on Strada de Roncac, Strada de Even and Strada de la Madonina streets, pass by the Church and the fountain "del Dante": from here you can go back to the centre (2 hrs.).

Did you know that...

Ancient documents prove that before the nineteenth Century a huge quantity of wood was sent from the woods of Val di Fassa to Venice's arsenal. This practice was interrupted when the city lost its political independence. Until the half of the nineteenth Century, the wood trade was rather flourishing. Logs were transported along the river Avisio to Val di Fiemme, and from here charged on wagons towards Verona for their trade as factory material. Other wood was cut in boards in the local sawmills and then sold in local fairs.
