Itineraries

INTO THE WILD: VALSORDA

Every logger of Fassa knows this valley. The wonderful and wild Valsorda, which brings to the Latemar, stores along the namesake stream the tracks of the old "cava de le bore" (cave of trunks), a passage for logs and woods five km long, built with stones and rocks, attentively studied, from its slopes to its bends. In winter the frozen cave used to become a sleigh slope where, until the Seventies, thousands of cubic metres of wood passed by. To discover this itinerary, start from Forno di Moena, following path n. 516, which starts from the entrance of the cave, which will be crossed in many spots. Arrived at Valsorda dairy (1676 m - 2 hrs), expert hikers can go on towards Bivouac Latemar (2365 m - 1 h), whereas the less trained can walk along path n. 517 leading to Medil, thence to Forno or to Medil.

Did you know that...

One of the most popular Ladin Easter traditions still alive in Val di Fassa is named "pechenèr". The verb indicates an eggs battle between couples (at the time only men). The game includes two participants each one with his/her own coloured eggs trying to break the rival's one. In the ancient times, women used to make coloured eggs for their men, husbands but especially fiancé that during Easter time used to meet their loved-ones at home. Usually the fiancé offered five eggs to her promised, according to a Ladin saying: Un no l'è da dèr, doi no i è da tor, trei vegn dal cher, cater l'è da mat e cinch l'è d'amor" (Do not give one, do not take one, three are from the heart, four it's a crazy thing and five are for love).

Initiatives reserved to guests with the Val di Fassa Card (ask your hotel/apartment) enrolments required by the previous day at the Tourist Offices. Activities are reserved for guests of the associated structures of Val di Fassa Tourist Board
