FROM PENIA TO LORENZ VERRA AND INSOM

From the square of Penia go up through the meadows along the Troie Lorenz path, arriving at the small hamlets of Lorenz and Verra. Walk by the small Church on a grassy path. Upward you can see the ruins of Insom. Through the meadows, you reach Ruf de Penia pass it and go on rightward to a path into the wood. Walk through the clearing of Udàer, descend the state road on your right for 150 metres up to the guardrail on the bridge over the Avisio; do not cross it and make your way into the wood. The ascent becomes steeper till the paved street. Proceed on the bridge and walk 30 metres on the road. Then enter the wood on the right and follow the path. You will find a gangway that leads to the sawmill Segheria Veneziana and after the second gangway you can come back quickly to Penia.

Did you know that...

In the ancient times the "maridoz" (wedding) here in Val di Fassa had lots of traditional moments. One of these, was the "scrign", a wedding chest, that artisans used to decorate with a six pointed star, symbol of warmth, light and fertility. The scrign where trousseau was put, was transported from the woman's house to the new home. The groom welcomed his future wife and his objects with a list of their value. The trousseau was positioned in the "stua" (the living room) or in the bedroom.
