The 20th edition of Val di Fassa Running started yesterday from Fontanazzo (10,86 km). A very respectful age for this staged competition that has been gathering many passionate runners over the years, as well as international stars of the discipline. The fame of the race has been growing and growing, also thanks to the prestigious number of top athletes taking part in it. Today (from 9.30 a.m.) the race will take place on Passo San Pellegrino along a fascinating track (11,68 km) that from Malga Boer leads the runners to Val Freida, Fuciade and La Regola. Pozza and its surrounding will be the setting of tomorrow's stage (9,4 km), while Wednesday will be a rest day, followed by the stage in Vigo (11,23 km) to conclude on Friday in Alba di Canazei, where the athletes will constantly ascend to the Ciampac.

Itineraries

FROM CANAZEI TO VAL DURON

From the centre of Canazei, follow the street Via Roma to the area called Ciuch and then go up along Strèda F. Dantone, leading to Strèda Dolomites. Follow the pavement towards Campitello, till Hotel Caminetto: here cross the street, reach the hotel and take the path ascending slightly to "Bosch da Ronch" wood. The trail keeps ascending till it comes to the hairpin bends that lead to Pian, over Campitello. Follow the street crossing this picturesque hamlet and take the path beginning from Strèda de Fossèl street. Walk until Baita Fraine, in Val Duron. From here, you can reach Rifugio Micheluzzi. To go back, you can either walk along the same route or descend the forest road leading to Campitello and then come back to Canazei on the nice walk along the Avisio (3 hrs).

Did you know that...

The economic situation in Val di Fassa registered a feeble recovery around the end of the XIX Century. This gave quite a good push to the cooperation between the locals. The primary goal was to make foodstuffs (often running low at that time) accessible to all the associated, without undue price-rising determined by shopkeepers, that were the last stage of the chain between producers and costumers. This is how the first group holdings were born, holdings that we still find in the villages.

Initiatives reserved to guests with the Val di Fassa Card (ask your hotel/apartment) enrolments required by the previous day at the Tourist Offices . Activities are reserved for guests of the associated structures of Val di Fassa Tourist Board
