Palua) in Mazzin. Itineraries

DISCOVERING SORAGA ALTA

Set off for this easy walk from the playground in Soraga, crossing then the gangway and turning left along the river Avisio. Ascend a ramp and take the forest road that descends from the Upper part of Soraga. Walk the flat path towards the Hotel La Molinella and thence ascend upwards. Go beyond a gate and go straight on. At a crossroads turn right and follow the indications for "Percorso Natura". The ascent becomes steeper but suddenly fades away, turning into a flat road that descends on the right on an easy path among the meadows of Upper Soraga. You will find the first houses of the hamlet and, following the right, walk on the last part of Street Gherghele. Keep going on the dirt road towards Avisio River and you will arrive at the gangway you passed at the starting point.

Did you know that...

For many centuries Val di Fassa and its economy remained almost "static". Since 1800 many important historical changes paved the way to crucial transformations. Until 1850, almost all men of the valley used to work as farmers, as reported in military service documents. Afterwards, we find them registered as bricklayers, painters or carpenters. This change reports an important evolution within the society. The arduous and infertile mountain agriculture underwent an heavy decline, hence local communities began to be mainly composed by employed.
