

The "Peace Path" in Trentino, from the Tonale pass to the Marmolada, is more than 520 kilometres long.

HIGHLIGHT

THE "GRAN VERA" IN THE PROJECT OF THE "PEACE PATH"

A hundred years after the end of the first World War, there are several opportunities to reflect and deepen the matter in Val di Fassa. To begin with, a visit to "1914-1918 - La Gran Vera - The Great War: Galizia Dolomites" at the theatre Navalge is recommended. Rich in war findings and documents, the exhibition is a result of the union between the collection "Simonetti-Fedespiel" - "Caimi" and the findings by the association "Sul fronte dei ricordi". Also interesting are the exhibition at Fedaia and the recently launched "I Stont", ancient shootstand in Campitello. Summer 2018 also determines the start of the project "Enlongia l Troi de la Pèsc per no desmentièr" ("Along the Peace path not to forget" in Ladin), with the enhancement of the piece of the "Peace path" that crosses Val di Fassa (three stages).

Itineraries

IN THE WILD VALSORDA

Every logger of Fassa knows this valley. The wonderful and wild Valsorda, which brings to the Latemar, stores along the namesake stream the tracks of the old "cava de le bore" (cave of trunks), a passage for logs and woods five km long, built with stones and rocks, attentively studied, from its slopes to its bends. In winter the frozen cave used to become a sleigh slope where, until the Seventies, thousands of cubic metres of wood passed by. To discover this walk, start from Forno di Moena, following path n. 516, which starts from the entrance of the cave, which will be crossed in many spots. Arrived at Valsorda dairy (1676 m - 2 hrs), expert hikers can go on towards Bivouac Latemar (2365 m - 1 h), whereas the less trained can walk along path n. 517 leading to Medil, thence to Forno or to Medil.

Did you know that...

During the first year of the Great War, Austro-Hungarian soldiers would receive a ration of food which included: 700 gr. of bread, 400 gr of beef meat and 140 gr of pulses or vegetables, all completed by two cubes of coffee ersatz, some wine or bier. Italian soldiers, on the other hand, consumed more carbohydrates with a ration of: 600 gr of bread, 100 gr of meat with pasta or rice, a quarter litre of wine, grappa, liqueur and coffee. From 1916, when the plantations were halved and the livestock decimated, soldiers (as well as the people) saw their food ration reduced both in quantity and quality.
