HIGHLIGHT

KNÖDEL TIME IN VIGO

“Let’s tuck in” is maybe the best exclamation for the “Festa del Canederlo” feast that takes place today at 8.00 p.m. in the square Piazz J.B. Massar in Vigo. Foodies can dig in with four different versions of the dish to which the feast is dedicated, feast organised by the local brass band “Mùsega da Vich”: smoked ham knödels with beef goulash, savoy cabbage knödels with boletus cream, cheese knödels with cabbage salad and, finally, sweet knödels with vanilla sauce (tickets available in the square from 6 p.m.). Everything accompanied by wines from Trentino. Children can also take part in the workshop (booking: tourist office in Vigo; € 3,00) to learn how to make canederli following the tips of the cook Daniele.

Itineraries

FROM VIGO TO SANTA GIULIANA

From the town-centre of Vigo, take the road Strada de Piz, until you meet a “festil”, which is a covered fountain. From here, go on along the road Strada de Sent’Uiana and, after passing the last house on the left, go up along the paved road that leads to the wall surrounding Santa Giuliana’s church, patron saint of Val di Fassa. The temple, according to the documents, has been there since 1237, on a prehistoric place of worship. The walk is short but steep and requires a stop, insomuch that you will meet some benches, to sit down and admire the landscape and the village below. Beside the church, there is also the Austrian-Hungarian cemetery, that can be visited before taking the comfortable unpaved path that leads to the crossroads with the way to the hamlet of Vallonga. Descending, you will reach the road Strada de Pontac and then, turning left, get to the starting point.

Did you know that...

The Art Institute Giuseppe Soraperra, settled along the Dolomites street in Pozza, was the first high school (1941) in the valley (today flanked by the science school, the language school and the ski-college). The building, which will be soon replaced with a new one, is a work by the architect Ettore Sottsass senior (1892 – 1953), who worked in Fassa in the Twenties and Thirties. The school of Sottsass was realised only in part, because of the war (it was concluded in 1951), but the project is detectable by the straightness of the construction, more complex in the volume and in the coverage.
