SUNRISE ON CIAMPEDIÈ WITH THE "TRIO CANVAS"

A new day that comes in an unforgettable way, on August 21st on Ciampedie with a "Greeting to the Dawn": at 6 p.m. takes place the concert of the "Trio Canvas" with Paolo Trettel (tumpet), Fiorenzo Zeni (saxophone) and Marco Facchin (keyboards) performing on the meadows of the refuge Pra Martin, 15 minutes on foot from the arrival of the cablecar Catinaccio that opens at 4.30 a.m. for the occasion (return ticket € 12,50), while the sun rises in the sky, clouring the rocks of the Dolomites in pink, according to that phenomenon that is called "enrosadira" by the Ladins. After the sunrise, the Holy Mass will also take place. An event that has been successfully taking place for some years, with appreciation from those who have taken part in it (info: Catinaccio Impianti a Fune +39 0462 76324).

Itineraries

FROM VALBONA TO THE REFUGE LA REZILA

This is an easy walk, suitable to everybody, that leads from Moena, by the Alpe Lusia cable car, leads to the refuge La Rezila. From the village, by car or by public transport, reach the intermediate station of the cabin lift (1820 metres) nearby the chalet Valbona in few minutes. From here, walk towards Malga Pozza, along a short flat stretch. As soon as the dirt road starts to incline uphill, take the paths on the left that goes down towards the pasture, go on in the wood and, along a pleasant and easy path, reach the refuge La Rezila (at 1761 metres), at the limit of a wide and sunny meadow (25 minutes). Go back along the same itinerary.

Did you know that...

"Creper l'èlba" and "fioresc soreie" are two Ladin expressions that indicate dawn and dusk respectively. For non-Ladin speakers these result to be two antithesis, as "creper" doesn't mean sun-set, but its opposite: the sun rising. "Fioresc", then, doesn't mean "to flourish" or the sun rising, but it's setting.

WE THANK
