HIGHLIGHT

THE GREAT WAR ON PORDOI PASS

Much has been said about the first world war, on occasion of the hundredth anniversary since its end. The dramatic event involved also Val di Fassa, on the border between the Italian Kingdom and the Austrian-Hungarian Empire, on which many rests have been collected during the years. Therefore it is interesting to visit the "Museum 1915 - 1918 - Dolomiten" on the Pordoi pass (open every day), located by the valley station of the cable car that goes up to Sass Pordoi. In a space of 450 square metres, the exhibition contains more than 3000 relics, with proper reconstructions of shelters and trenches. Among the most interesting documents, the pictures taken by the soldiers of both the armies, both on the frontline and on the backlines on Marmolada and Col di Lana.

Itineraries

THE TOUR OF SAN PELLEGRINO LAKE

The lake, ideal for those who are addicted of photos and shots to share on the social media, is located on San Pellegrino pass, at the foot of Col Margherita. From Moena, go up (by car or by bus) to the pass, towards the parking of the Monzoni hotel. Descend for about 50 metres along a gravel path through bushes and rhododendrons, till a dirt road with tables and benches. Go on around the shores of the lake, surrounded by firs and larches. The itinerary is enriched by bridges and walkways that define wonderful glimpses through the mountains that reflects in the water. At a short distance, beside the hotel Miralago, there is also the lake "delle Pozze" that invites you to walk on its shores.

Did you know that...

The "quant", the traditional costume for women, is made of a wide and pleated woolen gown and of a colourful apron in silk. The corsage, called "corpet", is sewed to the gown to make the "camejot" and it is closed by some clasps. The shirt is white, decorated with crocheted cuffs and completed by the "barel", a square embroidered collar. The women have their hair up in a bun, hold by a comb, the "peten", and by the "voies da ceff", silver pins. Finally, they wear jewels with coral pendants called "pìroi" and a necklace with a silver cross.

Initiatives reserved to the guests with the Val di Fassa Card (ask your hotel/apartment). Enrolments required within the previous day by the Tourist Offices. The activities are reserved to the guests of the associated structures of Val di Fassa Tourist Board.
