HIGHLIGHT

"LA GRAN VERA": THE FIRST WORLD WAR EXHIBITION

"La Gran Vera - La Grande Guerra 1914-1918" is always expression of actuality, by reporting signs on the territory, sorrow and horrors of the conflict. The exhibition, set up within the theatre Navalge in Moena (since 2014), develops along 4 sections: "Galicia 1914", "The trench", "Dolomites 1915" and "War to the war". The exhibition is rich in documents, personal objects of the soldiers, arms and many others war findings, both picked up on the front of San Pellegrino at few kilometres from Moena and gifted by the collectioners and curators of the exhibition, Michele Simonetti Federspiel and Mauro Caimi. During the years, the exhibition have been enriched with other elements and is nowadays one of the best in Italy for the quality of its reports and reconstructions.

Did you know that...

In the Nineteenth century, the first expert geologists came to Val di Fassa from the near Fiemme, after having made researches in Predazzo, area of volcanic origins that they associated to Val Monzoni, near Pozza, also of undersea volcanic composition. But Val Monzoni was difficult to reach, far from the main communication routes and from the inns. A longer stop was therefore necessary. In 1864, for the geologic similarities between Predazzo and Val Monzoni, the researcher mr. Lapparent named the rocks founded in both the areas with a unique name: "Monzoniti".

Initiatives reserved to the guests with the Val di Fassa Card (ask your hotel/apartment). Enrolments required within the previous day by the Tourist Offices. The activities are reserved to the guests of the associated structures of Val di Fassa Tourist Board.
