Itineraries

FROM COL DEI ROSSI TO FEDAIÀ PASS

This "High-level walk" kicks off from Col de Rossi: get there by cable car that departs from Canazei. Descend to Belvedere Refuge and then, rightwards through a meadow, walk along a dirt road till Fredarola Refuge at 2.388 m (0,20 h). Follow then the footpath no. 601, mostly flat with some ascents, till the refuge Viel dal Pan at 2.432 m (0,40 h). Continue for a quite long stretch enjoying the landscape over Tofane. You arrive then to a crossroads. Descend now rightward and diagonally toward the dam, and through a steep slope to be covered with caution in its last stretch. You will reach the state road of Fedaià Pass, in front of the Refuge Marmolada "E. Castiglioni" (2.054 m; 1,20 h; 2 hrs.). You come back to Canazei by bus that stops at the end of the path.

Did you know that...

In the Ladin Valleys of Dolomites live nowadays around 35 thousand people, the majority of which speak Ladin as mother tongue. The idiom gives this people the chance to legitimate their ethnic-linguistic group as independent. Despite its ancient origins (fusion between the languages Reathian and Latin) the scientific acknowledgement of Ladin dates back to the second half of the 1800s. Some experts, after researches, find out that its presence was actually in three linguistic spots: around the Dolomites, in Friaul and in the Grisons canton (Switzerland).
